TRIBUTE TO BRAVERY

Our cover is a salute to the valor of one of the smallest of the Spring flowers, re-appearing every year at the peak of the foulest most unpleasant and unreliable time of the year- the cold and wet of March. This herald of better things to come in a month or so, the crocus, is a most welcome sign at a period when it is needed the most. These flowers, on our cover and on this page, are recent arrivals in Mrs. Barrie's garden on Ned's Point Road, but their kind has been noticed all over the town.

MATTAPOISETT BOARD OF SELECTMEN
MARCH 19, 1991- by VIRGINIA MORGAN

Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson, who also serves as Mattapoisett's representative to the Buzzards Bay Coalition, was commended by selectmen last Tuesday for his efforts in coordinating the proper information from various town departments in order to submit Mattapoisett's package on its Environmental Report card.

Mattapoisett maintained a "B" average for its overall grade wrote Mr. Nicholson. "This year's grading was more strict than the previous year and will continue to do so as years go on. Many other communities went down, but due to all the efforts of town departments and boards, Mattapoisett maintained its "B" average. We'll have to work hard this year to better ourselves for next year."

The Buzzards Bay Coalition issues a report annually to help the 12 municipalities closest to the bay see where they are succeeding or lagging in protecting the estuary. This evaluation serves as a tool for improving the local/regional environmental health. Towns covered include Acushnet, Bourne, Dartmouth, Fairhaven, Falmouth, Gosnold, Marion, Mattapoisett, New Bedford, Rochester, Wareham and Westport.

In the special comments made concerning Mattapoisett, the report noted the town benefited from vigorous volunteers on the Board of Health and other departments. They require developers to cover costs of studies required during permitting process. The town regulates its piers. The town has a by-law forbidding feeding of waterfowl. The town made significant progress on zoning and aquifer protection and there is a sense of movement here of renewed hope and commitment.

Because of letters received by the board from both parties, selectmen said it appeared the Tripps felt there was a marked improvement in the incident of the dog barking and agreed to wait until the end of summer. The Bonneys have promised to move the dog kennel and run to an area farther from the Tripps' house when the Bonneys have completed renovating their house on that side.

Selectmen agreed to continue any decisions until its first meeting in September with the expectation that the Bonneys have accomplished the change of the dog kennel on or before August 30th.

APPOINTED Robert Liljedahl of 8 Seaconet Road to the Recreation Committee, term to expire April 30, 1992.

APPROVED THE SUGGESTION of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club to purchase and install new benches for use of the public at Shipyard Park as a community service gift to the town in celebration of the club's 50th anniversary.

A letter from Woman's Club president Eletha M. Yeaton suggested either the benches at Shipyard Park or building an exact duplicate of the picnic pavilion at Ned's Point Veterans' Park in addition to the older one now in use. The club has other suggestions for a community gift, but these two would require the Board of Selectmen's approval. All suggestions will be considered by club members and then one selected by vote at the club's meeting.

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta and Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney felt the benches would be a worthwhile addition to Shipyard Park, especially useful during the band concerts and square dances in the summer and for "harbor watching" in all seasons.

AGREED TO ACCEPT the proposal of Brown and Barrett to audit the town's books for the years ending June 1991, 1992 and 1993 at a cost of $13,000 per year for a total of $39,000.

Chairman DeCosta noted Town Accountant Joseph Bolton recommended this company. Brown and Barrett had audited the town's books in 1986 and again in 1989; the cost was $12,000 in 1989, and the company has done the books for many area towns with satisfaction.

MET WITH Ridgeway Crouch, chairman of the Personnel Board, to discuss selectmen's request to increase the hours of the town mechanic and a secretary. "The Personnel Board regulations will have no effect on the increased hours just so long as there are funds to cover the increased wages", said Mr. Crouch.

Mr. Crouch noted, "We've tried to respond to pay scales to keep them in line with private industry. We now have 19 town employees not covered by union contracts." He added that a joint meeting of the finance committee, selectmen, town accountant and personnel board should be held before the annual town meeting to discuss salary increases.

On behalf of the board, Chairman DeCosta thanked the Personnel Board members for the many volunteer hours spent in meeting with employees and for their dedication to their appointment. Selectman Mahoney expressed his opinion that perhaps the Personnel Board should be taking another look at the board's policies to see if changes could be made now that there are only 19 town employees not under union contracts as opposed to the many more not under contract when the board was formed.

RECEIVED A LETTER from Leland Craver, president of the Marion/Mattapoisett/Rochester Housing Co-op, informing the board of the results of the preliminary survey taken on housing needs in the tri-town area. He thanked the selectmen for their efforts in helping to complete the survey.

The non-profit group has received federal income tax exemption from the IRS, thus allowing the group to accept contributions of cash and/or property from private individuals and foundations.

Tabulation of the housing survey was done by Sean Ellis, a student at Old Rochester Regional High School, working under the auspices of the school's community outreach program. Sean entered 519 survey forms into the computer data base; 482 homeowners and 104 renters.

The survey resulted in 10 percent of tri-town households responding. In length of residence the majority (368) has lived in the tri-town area more than 10 years; 434 are not employed in the tri-towns; 514 are not employed fulltime by either the towns or the schools; 488 own their own home. On the ages of the head of household, 218 were 55 or older; annual incomes of 277, $45,000 or more; 183 pay $950 or more in housing payments; 247 have an average of $11,000 or more for down payments and closing costs for home ownership. The majority of 467 prefer traditional ownership. Renters claim the down payment and closing costs are definitely a major hurdle to home ownership.

Mr. Craver noted funds to conduct the survey were derived from area banks and services were donated by tri-town people. This has enabled the housing survey to be accomplished at no cost to the taxpayers.

town warrant meeting seeking voter approval to include an enhanced 911 emergency system in town. According to Police Chief James F. Moran, there is no charge to the town for the present. The chief said the service is a life-saving system for people who are handicapped or just in distress and need to get emergency help without delay.

The system will be operated by the New England Telephone Company which will pay for it by charging customers who use directory assistance more than a certain number of times. Once an emergency call comes into the dispatcher, it goes into a video display and lists the name and address of the caller, the chief explained.

Mattapoisett Election Tuesday

FIVE CONTESTED RACES

Election hours are: 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., at Old Hammondtown School on Tuesday, April 2nd.

In the annual town election the five contested races are for the offices of Board of Selectmen, Board of Assessors, Water/Sewer Commissioner and two and three-year terms on the Library Trustees.

Commander, Dennis Brennan; Administrative Officer, Clifford Tripp; Educational Officer, Walter Sawyer; Secretary, Nathan Flood and Treasurer, James Bonnar. Executive Committee members are Chris Bryant, Court Piehler and Peter Bradford.

Regarding Newspaper Recycling:

LETTER TO MATTAPOISETT RESIDENTS

I would first like to begin by thanking everyone who participated in the Newspaper Collection on January 19th. Your continued enthusiasm in saving your newspapers is very encouraging.

Also at this time I would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Flood for their efforts on Recycling in Mattapoisett and their collection of close to a ton of paper each drive from the Mattapoisett Housing for the Elderly; also I need to say how grateful I was to have Mr. Flood and Mr. Charles Jenks help me get through an avalanche of papers when I needed them.

There are a few things that need to be cleared up in regards to the collection process:

1) We can only accept NEWSPAPER.

2) No junk mail, catalogs, magazines, Presto, cardboard and here are a few other things we received that are not at all appreciated: dirty underwear, dirty kleenex, kitty litter box-lined newspapers, food, etc.

3) We also would prefer that papers be put into bundles and tied with string; 14 trips to the dump needed to be made to dispose of all paper bags and junk en-

One last and important note: Thank you to Ben Brewer, Bill Taylor and Jim Ziobro who ran pick-up trucks with the overload of papers for 4 hours from Mattapoisett to Rochester and most importantly to Polly Savaria for her neverending commitment to recycling; also Jonathan's Sprouts for use of their truck for the collection at the A&P lot.

Thank You, Donna J. Ziobro

Friends of Mattapoisett Library

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Friends of the Mattapoisett Library was held Saturday, March 16th at the library. The by-laws of the Friends were revised and ratified. The upcoming "Words on Wheels" or WOW program was outlined. The target date for the book delivery program is set for the first week of April. Several other events and projects were also highlighted. The Friends will be assisting the library staff in moving books, shelves, etc. in areas scheduled for repairs. The Friends will be featuring an easel adjacent to the circulation desk displaying upcoming events. A member of the Friends, Caty Fuerman, has generously offered her time and artistic talents to create a banner to indicate whether the outside entrance to the children's section of the library is locked or unlocked. The banner will be displayed on the main entrance door and easily seen as you approach the library.

Through upcoming fund-raising events such as Harbor Days, the friends hope to acquire passes to the Museum of Science and/or the Boston Children's Museum for use by library patrons. The Friends would also like to erect a small sign stating the library hours on the front lawn.

The board members discussed the upcoming elections to take place at the library on Saturday, April 27th, at 10 a.m. Openings on the board are vice president, treasurer and publicity. Anyone interested in any of these positions may call Beth Andrews at 758-2589 for more information. All members of the Friends of the Mattapoisett Library are encouraged to attend this brief meeting.

This month's speaker will be Seth Mendell, who for the past 26 years has been a professor of Russian History. Seth's talk is entitled "Russia of the Czars", and features a six city tour of the architecture of the period, as well as the insight of 26 years of study of the country, the people and the politics we know so little about. Seth's presentation will undoubtedly show the constant connection between the Russia of the past and the USSR of today.

Callers are reminded to report their lists not later than 9:00 p.m. Monday, April 1st. Last minute changes and reservations may be made by calling Mike Lamoureux at 758-9311.

Easter, Congregational Church

MATTAPOISETT

The story of the resurrection continues to be both a source of hope and inspiration as well as a time of skepticism among non-Christians and Christians alike. With all the intellectual tools at hand, there is an inadequacy, a shallowness to our lives. Can we make leaps of faith and believe in what cannot be seen? We need to. The title of the sermon this Sunday at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church will be "A Moment in Time".

On Easter Sunday there will be several services:

Recycling Counts!

Recycled glass is in demand!

Clear and colored glass (our waste glass) can replace as much as 20% of the stone and sand used in a conventional asphalt mix to produce "glassphalt". New York has used 30,000 tons of mixed cullet (waste glass) which couldn't be sold for glass making. Now, N.Y.'s 412 miles of glassphalt roadways sparkle in the light of evening (more than 1.5 million tons of glass was recycled in 1988).

Mixing cullet with virgin materials to make new glass containers affords manufacturers today's young people. The morning began with guest speaker Norm Bossio speaking to the students about self-esteem. For the remainder of the day the students were involved in four workshops. The general topics for the workshops were teenage pregnancy, family issues, AIDS education, and stress management. Nineteen area health professionals came to the school to present workshops. The agencies involved were Southeast Massachusetts Health Care, Project CARE of New Bedford, Tobey Hospital, New Bedford Community Health, the Polaroid Corporation, Citizens for Citizens, Wareham Professional Business Women's Club, the New Bedford Women's Center, Northeastern University Peer Education, Mattapoisett Congregational Church, New Bedford Child and Family Services, Bristol Community College, and the Body Clinic. CHAPTER VIII

EMPLOYMENT - by JENNIE HILLER LUDMAN

As I recall, my brothers and I were always in need of spending money, whether it was for cookies, candy, a baseball or a new bathing suit. We all saved our pennies in our banks, and started small bank accounts at the Five Cent Savings Bank in New Bedford.

My brother David had a weekly magazine route. Matthew did errands for Captain and Mrs. Gibbs such as chopping and bringing in wood. He also brought the 6:30 p.m. mail to this elderly couple who seldom ventured out after dark. Matthew was often invited to have supper with them and he enjoyed the Captain's stories about rescuing sailors on a rough night in New Bedford harbor when their ship was sinking.

My brother George was old enough to work with men cutting out scallops or oysters at 25 cents a gallon. As I recall, money was needed in our family since my father did not have steady work as a dock captain in New York City.

My brothers and I also earned premiums by peddling Larkin orders near home. The Larkin Company printed a long list of packaged foods, toilet articles, etc. for which we took orders from our neighbors. Sometimes we sent a money order for the total amount and received a premium such as a sled or coasting cart. The cart held six children, and we used to coast down Cannonville hill.

Jobs for 17-year old girls were mainly helping mothers with care of children or house work. There were a few sales and clerical jobs. A Woman's Exchange was opened in town for the summer months, supplying cakes, cookies, etc. made by our mothers and sold to summer visitors and working women who were busy outside the home. I earned some money doing this.

During the summer vacation of 1914 I sold a book titled "The Bible and Its Story". I recall I collected $1.00 at the door, promising delivery in August. This deposit of $1.00 I sent to the company. The first payment of $1.50 would be due. This amount ($1.50) I could keep for my work. I rode from house to house on my bicycle which had a luggage basket on the handlebars to hold the books. I visited homes in Mattapoisett, Fairhaven and New Bedford where I knew there were children. Local ministers and priests suggested homes where I could sell. As I recall, the selling job was satisfactory and parents were pleased with the book for their children. I earned about $75. for my college fund.

In August 1914 my history teacher in high school, Miss Verder, heard of the need for a few teachers in the country school houses in Little Compton, RI. She recomended me to the Superintendent of Schools in that town. So, I took the usual exam which covered arithmetic, spelling, geography, history and it was an all-day session. Having good marks in all but geography I was hired.

I was also fortunate to be able to earn an hourly wage of 25 cents when my Latin teacher recommended me to help a freshman girl with her lessons. Another teacher asked me to help a boy with his Algebra. All this tutoring was done after school hours.

When I was about 10 years old Miss Cummings, who was the clerk at the dry goods store on Main Street, gave me my first job of sweeping her platform and sidewalk. The pay was 15 cents a week. As I was only 10 years old I felt very wealthy.

Children in town were employed in September on the cranberry bogs in town. We could earn as much as $1.00 on Saturdays (working a long day). The grownups used special scoops but we children picked the berries off the long vines with our hands.

My oldest brother George earned his spending money by helping Uncle Lilburne with his garden. I remember he drove the old white horse and a farm wagon with high sides, piled high with bundles of rhubarb to the big city markets in New Bedford. My uncle depended on my two older brothers for help with his farm on Crescent Beach. David proved to be an excellent plumber working on the new water system our uncle installed for the cottages that had been built on land he sold at Crescent Beach. My uncle accomplished his fresh water system long before the town laid the pipes for a town system.

When we were very young children we were allowed to go to Nelson's Beach, near home, where there was a stream of salt water running into the harbor. Here we could catch blue crabs by throwing out a long string with food attached at one end. These crabs would be enticed into our nets by the food. We walked along the edge of the stream, pulling the food. The net had a long handle and we would scoop up the crabs and take them home, sometimes peddling some of them to neighbors.

Awareness Hour

MARION CENTER ASSOC. FOUNDATION

The Marion Center Associates Foundation cordially invites the public to an awareness hour entitled "Children of Denial", to be held on Saturday, April 6th, from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at Saint Gabriel's Parish Hall, 124 Front Street in Marion. This program is the first in a series of awareness hours that will be held on four Saturdays this spring.

This first program in the series will feature the showing of the videotape entitled "Children of Denial", narrated by Claudia Black. This videotape explains the impact of growing up with a chemically dependent parent. The video and the discussion afterward will identify issues and will offer support, hope, and guidelines for healthier alternatives.

"Homes with an alcoholic or substance abusing parent are permeated by an atmosphere of denial", comments Nancy Mahoney, certified alcoholism counselor with the Marion Center Associates. "Children learn to keep quiet about what they see happening and to distrust their own reactions and feelings. Recovery is about unlearning this denial, opening up what's been shut down. It's a challenging but rich and exciting process."

The second awareness hour in this spring series, to be held on April 20th, will be a workshop entitled "When the Dance Changes: Couples in Recovery", focusing on the challenges facing couples when one or both partners is in recovery.

On May 18th the third awareness hour will feature a film, "If You Loved Me", about the effects of alcoholism on a family and the eye talk

Q. My tennis game is getting worse. A friend jokingly said, "Get your eyes examined." Could my eyes be the problem?

A. They might be. Many different vision skills are needed to play any sport well.

With a thorough eye examination, your optometrist can tell you if you lack certain skills or need to sharpen some.

In tennis, for example, sharp distance vision, especially when you and the ball are in motion, helps you keep everything in focus.

Peripheral awareness helps you keep an eye on your opponent, partner and court boundaries. You use depth perception to judge the ball's speed and position and vision pursuit skills to follow it. Eye-hand-foot-body coordination helps you get into position to hit the ball.

You may be able to sharpen your vision skills with a vision therapy program. Sometimes, glasses or contact lenses are needed.

ROBERT J. FAY
CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE OF ASSESSOR

REASON: To see that each and every property owner be assessed ONLY for their fair share.

BACKGROUND: A resident of Mattapoisett for the last 24 years. I own a single-family home, but no other property. Currently employed as "Computer System MGR", and "Data Processing Service Bureau MGR" at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School. In this capacity I serve the computer needs of not only Old Colony, but the towns and schools of Mattapoisett, Rochester, Acushnet, Carver, and Old Rochester Regional School District. Have 30 years experience in computers of which 28 were spent in management positions. In 1965 I passed the exam and was awarded a Massachusetts Real Estate Broker's license. Currently a member of the Personnel Board.

STATEMENT: During the last 12 years as computer service bureau manager I processed payrolls, census information, water billing, Real Estate, Personal Property, and Boat Excise Tax billing for the Towns of Mattapoisett, Marion, and Rochester. I have received several letters of commendation for the accuracy and timely processing of real estate billing from area tax collectors. Now that the State Department of Revenue is pressing the Town of Mattapoisett to computerize the assessors' office, I believe my experience will be a very valuable asset to the town. The office of assessors is one of the most important departments of town government. As such I will see to it that the employees of this office treat the public with respect and be as helpful as they can to each and every person requesting their help. I personally will invite anyone to come in and discuss with me any problems or questions they may have. I also would like to explore the possibilities of having two tax rates; one for commercial and one for residential. This is being done in other communtiies in the area, and could lower the tax rate for the homeowner. Finally, I think it is "Time for a Change". My opponent has held this position for 30 years.

Robert J. Fay, 4 Massasoit Way, Mattapoisett, MA.

held from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. for four and five year old children. A 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. class would also be held for children, ages 6 to 12. There would also be one Saturday morning class held for children who cannot attend during the week.

Francis and Barbara Gordon, 10 Tupola Lane attended the public hearing. They were concerned about parking and traffic issues, but were not opposed to the culinary classes. These issues were addressed and it was found that becuase only five children per class would attend, there would not be a substantial increase in traffic. The applicant stated she would have adequate liability insurance.

The board determined that a sign would not be necessary. Four letters from neighbors and abutters were submitted into evidence stating approval and support for the classes. No one attended the public hearing in opposition.

A special permit was granted to F. Daniel and Kathleen C. Deknis of Shrewsbury relating to property they own at 18 Channel Street for alterations to an existing, non-conforming structure, a single family dwelling in the Crescent Beach section in the Waterfront Residence District.

The property is located in a neighborhood surrounded by a mixture of seasonal and year-round houses. The lot was in existence prior to the 1967 zoning by-law adoption, and is legally non-conforming.

The applicants propose substantial alterations to the dwelling by adding a second floor and to remodel the existing first floor. There will be no change in the footprint and there will be no additional bedrooms than the present three.

Ralph and Patricia Sanford of 112 Mattapoisett Neck Road were granted a special permit relating to property they own at 3 Quansett East in the Antassawamock Waterfront 30 District for the demolition of a one and half story, four bedroom lawfully non-conforming structure and to construct a new two story single family dwelling on a lawfully non-conforming lot. The house is located in the Flood Plain Zone and there will also be an improvement to the septic system with the addition of a 2,500 gallon septic tank. The top of the foundation elevation will be at 15.33 feet so as to meet applicable Flood Plain regulations. The structure will be 25 feet in height from the top of the foundation.

Several people attended the hearing in favor of the application and the board received four letters in support of the project.

The appeal of Edward J. Ruel, 6R Dexter Lane relating to his property located at 4 Silver Shell Avenue was denied. Mr. Ruel sought an appeal to reverse the order of the building inspector. Four members' votes were needed to grant the approval. The vote was three in favor, one against.

In July 1990 the acting building inspector Raymond Hanks placed a cease and desist order on Mr. Ruel for work on a structure without a building permit.

does not treat wildlife as a separate unit to fit into an already packed curriculum.

Instead, Project WILD offers more than 120 activities which can be integrated into existing curricula. According to Project Wild instructor Karen Holmes, "These activities help students understand how subjects such as social studies, math, science, and English can be learned separately in school but in real life situations are often bound together." There are indoor and outdoor activities; activities for individuals, and large or small groups.

Project WILD encourages skill development, critical thinking, responsible actions, and informed decision making. Interested educators should call the Lloyd Center at 990-0505 to register for this workshop. There is a fee of $15 for members and $20. for non-members for this workshop.

From Old Colony

For the second year Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School is offering six week exploratory programs to students in middle school grades who are interested in experiencing voc-tech learning.

Based on student selection, up to 12 shops are made available to the students for two hours each Tuesday; students rotate to three shops during their cycle.

Program coordinator Bruce Ashworth, a staff member in the welding and metal fabrication department, explains, "Each session is designed to allow the students the opportunity to work with shop equipment. Small projects are constructed."

Examples of the projects undertaken include preparation of pizza and fresh bread in culinary arts, making a desk lamp in electricity and a planter in carpentry, constructing a siren in electronics and a tote tray in metal fabrication.

Mr. Ashworth continues, "There is no charge for participation. School bus transportation is provided."

In late fall students from Carver were in attendance and currently students from Acushnet are participating.

Students from Old Rochester Regional Junior High who will be eligible to attend Old Colony have been invited for a final session scheduled to begin in late April.

Technical High School's junior class recently. Mr. Bossio, a Lakeville resident and former superintendent of schools in Boxboro, employs humor and psychology in his popular high-energy presentations.

Using the example of turning the fear of a roller coaster ride into enjoyment and accomplishment, Mr. Bossio advised his young audience that they can control and profit from similar stress in their own lives. Recognizing their own personality types, he continued, allows people to channel energies to positive directions which will allow for greater growth and less conflict.

His emphasis was on the day to day stress - parents, school and related relationships and responsibilities - faced by most teens.

As a stress management consultant, Mr. Bossio is a frequent speaker in schools and at business conferences. This was his second visit to Old Colony, having spoken earlier to members of the staff.

PIONEER LASER VIDEODISC

A Pioneer Laser Videodisc has been purchased for use in classes at Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School. The unit, funded through receipt of a "Project Expand" grant received from the State Department of Education, offers video capabilities of the highest quality and versatility as well as increased durability.

Recognized as a "resource center of instructional material", the Videodisc, resembling a record, allows for up to 54,000

EXCELLENCE IN EFFORT AWARD WINNERS

In conjunction with Massachusetts Vocational Education Week, twelve students at Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School in Rochester were recognized for excellence in effort in their vocational-technical training programs.

Winners included Karen Porter, Class of 1992, Health Careers, from Mattapoisett, and Peter Normand, Class of 1992, Machine & Tool Technology, of Rochester.

ATTENDED CONFERENCE

On March 13th six students from Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School participated in a non-traditional occupations conference hosted by Bristol-Plymouth Technical High School in Taunton. Also present were students from Diman Voke-Tech in Fall River.

Non-traditional occupations are those workfields that have traditionally been male or female job categories but, in recent years, have accepted workers of the opposite sex.

A discussion of Women's History Month (March) and recognition of the accomplishments of notable women opened the program. The groups then shared information and concerns, comparing each school's approach to non-traditional issues. Following a tour
